6-YEAR STUDY SHOWS EFFECT OF CUT DRIVE

ernment was $365,633 less in 1936 than in 1931—but it had been $434,-304 less in 1935.

The accumulated savings (total of reductions of costs in each of the five years following 1931 under the 1931 costs) was shown to be $3,936,-236 for the first group of five counties and $1,616,579 for the second five-county group.

Misses described the reduction in costs in the six-year period as proof of what may be done through militant action by taxpayers and the upturn in costs as a challenge to taxpayers to do everything in their power in the forthcoming hearings on 1938 budgets to prevent a return to an "era of more lavish spending."

Pertinent facts revealed by the studies included:

1. The difference between the 1931 and 1936 expenditures amounted to a drop of 18.7 percent in the first group and 11.3 percent in the second group. Schools showed a substantially larger reduction in costs than civil units, with the difference between 1931 and 1936 school costs being 17.7 percent in the first group and 17.6 percent in the second group, while the drops in civil government costs were 13.9 percent and 5.3 percent, respectively.

2. The trend of total expenditures in the first group of counties was from $5,133,945 in 1931 to $4,120,892 in 1936 and then up to $4,327,250 in 1941. Corresponding figures for the second group of counties were $3,-21,497 in 1931, $2,707,193 in 1936 and $2,853,364 in 1936.

3. In both instances the reduction in expenditures to meet debt obligations accounted for the larger part of the difference between 1931 and 1936 costs. General operating and transportation costs of schools also showed reductions, but general operating expenses of civil units, aside from debt payments and road and street maintenance, showed substantial increases in each of the two groups of counties.

"The upturn in costs is the sign-board to the taxpayers to bear in mind as they enter into their fight this summer and fall against higher taxes in 1938," Misses said.

SUPPORT MONEY PLEA DENIED TO WOMAN OF GARY

Judge Mark H. Rockwell, of Porter superior court, does not claim to possess occult powers, but he called the turn to perfection Friday afternoon in a hearing on a petition filed by a Gary colored woman for support from her husband.

The action was that of Cora Belle Eldredge against Raymond Eldredge. Eldredge had originally filed a suit for divorce, charging that his wife had been married to another man in 1921 and separated from him in 1923.

Without obtaining a divorce from her first husband, she contracted a marriage with Eldredge in 1926. This fact Eldredge learned when he became acquainted with husband No. 1, about six months later.

According to Eldredge, his wife told him of the prior marriage, but said her husband had died. Eldredge continued to live with his wife until 1930 when he separated from her.

Recently Eldredge employed Attorney Harrison Steward, of Gary, to investigate the case and file suit for divorce. Mrs. Eldredge, through her attorney, Ray Wilson, of Gary, contested the action. A cross complaint was filed asking support money and attorney's fees.

After hearing the evidence, Judge Rockwell denied Mrs. Eldredge support money, but allowed her attorney $50 for services.

"Judge, you are a Solomon," Attorney Steward informed him. "That is just the agreement Attorney Wilson and I reached in the matter, but Mrs. Eldredge refused to abide by the decision," Attorney Steward added.

A daughter was born Friday in Christian hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Derocher, of Valparaiso R. R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poncher of this city are the happy parents of a six pound daughter born this morning at Michael Reese hospital, Chicago. The little daughter has been named Dale Barbara Poncher. Mrs. Poncher before her marriage was Minnie Lewis of Chicago.

SCOUTS OF 50 NATIONS OPEN WORLD MEET

By H. C. BURMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
VOORLZANO, Netherlands, July 31—(UP)—Twenty-eight thousand boy scouts of 50 nations marched past the royal tribune today as Queen Wilhelmina opened a world scout jamboree. Beside the queen was venerable Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the scouts, standing erect beside Lady Baden-Powell despite his eighty years as the scouts marched past 12 abreast.

The United States contingent of more than 800, preceded by the stars and stripes, led the procession and won a tremendous cheer.

American Chief Scout James E. West was among those on the reviewing stand and watched them.

After the Americans came the Armenians, the Belgians, the Czechoslovakians, the Danes, the Estonians, 8,000 boys from the British Empire and so on through the long list of national groups. All cheered as they dipped their flags in the queen's honor.

At the end were 11,00 Netherlandscouts, and the thousands in the arena rose to cheer them.

After the review the boys gathered in the meadow nearby, facing the royal stand, and after a moment of silence surged forward at a signal, waving their hats and shouting, toward the royal tribune to honor the queen.

Then the queen, through loud speakers expressed her happiness at opening a gathering of boys from all over the world. Heads were bared and all stood at attention as the red, white and blue Netherland colors were raised on the flagpole and the band played the Netherland national anthem, "Wilhelmus van Nassauwe," all joining—most of the foreign boys, who did not know the words, humming.

Lord Baden-Powell waved his hand to a thunder of cheers and expressed his pride at being with the boys again. The queen left and the 28,000 boys returned to their tents.

It was a happy scene. The 10 Japanese were put diplomatically at the opposite end of camp from the 12 Chinese boys. But theJapanese and Chinese boys, But the Japanese and hands and smilingly walking together, showing despite the while hot enmity of their nations their determination to uphold the world's scout doctrine that all nations are brothers.

The American scouts, among the When Chief Scout West made his official entry yesterday, in a motor car decorated with the stars and and preceded and followed by American scouts, boys of 11 nationalities ran from all over the camp waving their flags and giving him an uproarious welcome.

AL SMITH BACK IN POLITICAL WARS IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, the "happy warrior" of other years, returned to the political wars today faced with the unprecedented task of guiding a Tammany-endorsed mayoralty candidate through a republican primary.

Dropping his role as behind-the-scenes adviser, Smith stepped into the breach after the announcement that Tammany Leader James J. Dooling and attempted to rally the hall's quarreling factionsbrings behind the candidacy of Senator Royal Copeland for the mayorship of New York city.

Meanwhile, announcement by both Copeland and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia that they would seek the republican nomination for senator indicated the wearer of the brown derby in supporting Copeland would have to cross party lines in one of the most tangled campaigns of his forty-three years in politics.

NAZIS HURL RUSS ATTACK

LONDON, July 31.—(UP)—Friction between Germany and Russia flared into the open Friday at a sub-committee meeting of the Spanish non-intervention committee.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German ambassador, openly accused the soviets of starting the Spanish war and also charged that Russia had destroyed the British plan to restore the wrecked non-intervention scheme.

"One government only, namely Soviet Russia, wrecked the British plan by rejecting one of its three fundamental principles," Ribbentrop said.

(Russia has refused firmly to accord belligerent rights to the Spanish insurgents).

The Britishs statement must be made now. The grave responsibility rest on soviet Russia alone.

"The reason for this attitude on the part of soviet Russia is clear. Soviet Russia started the Spanish civil war and would like to end it her own way—that is, by bolshevizing Spain.

"Non-intervention is a hindrance to this, and therefore the soviet union refuses to accord belligerent rights, with the sire knowledge that this destroys the British plan, and deals the policy of non-intervention a blow from which it will not easily recover."

WARN TEACHERS OF RACKETS IN SEEKING JOBS

United Press State Letter
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 31.—(UP)—Hundreds of Indiana teachers, seeking placement during August—the best month for securing school assignments—today were warned by Harry E. Elder, registrar of Indiana State Teachers College, to be alert for "racketeers in securing teaching positions."

"In a recent instance, a school principal formed himself into a placement agency. Prospective applicants were required to sign up with him as supervisor of the agency" and then when he hired teachers in his capacity as principal he paid himself the agency's customary 5 per cent of the successful applicant's next salary."

Elder pointed out that the teachers' placement bureau was campaigning against such unethical practices through the Indiana Institutional Placement Associations, an organization composed of placement heads in accredited teacher training institutions of the state.

He called attention to free service available to teachers who seek positions and said the state board of education had anounced it would work in close cooperation with the free institutional bureau.

JAPS BOMBARD TIENTSIN AS NATIVES FLEE

By H. O. THOMPSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
TIENTSIN, July 31.—(UP)—Japanese artillery mercilessly bombarded the former Austrian concession today and shells blasted into the thickly populated native area.

Widows of the United Press offices rallied from the concussion of the bombardment. No explanation for it was offered immediately.

The warden of the Chinese prison in Tientsin said he feared several hundred prisoners had been killed. prisoners not having been released by Japanese officials fled.

Officials deemed it unwise to release hundreds of desperate prisoners when they believed the Japanese would discontinue the bombing.

A Japanese military spokesman said the majority of the Chinese forces had been driven out of the Tientsin area but that further street mopping might be expected.

Japanese planes bombed Paotingfu yesterday because troops of the Central army refused to evacuate, and the retreating 29th Northern Army was concentrating there.

As the shells rained anew on the city, foreign missionaries emerged as heroes and heroines of this brief "war" between China and Japan.

Torrential rains and an electrical storm postponed a scheduled Japanese air demonstration this morning but the artillery continued to bombard the terrorized native city.

Irving Levitas of Kansas City arrived in the British concession after having been caught in the midst of firing while living in the Chinese Y. M. C. A. in the outskirts. He described a three-hour journey through the shell-torn streets.

The continual bombardment kept everyone in a state of frazzled nerves and most Chinese as well as foreigners have ceased trying to work.

The Tientsin Evening Post suspended publication for the duration of the incident. The foreign concessions tightened restrictions. The British concession does not permit Chinese entry without special permit. Street gates were closed tonight and all traffic diverted through two or three thoroughfares.

A Japanese military spokesman said the bombardment of numerous places is due to the fact that remnants of the shattered Chinese forces are lodged there. It was persistently rumored that troops of the Central Chinese army are arriving from the south and neither he believed it improbable.

Foreign sources heard the Japanese planes were over the whole Chinese city tomorrow.

Touring the city I saw 20 corpses of human and animals in a heap on one street corner. Many small Chinese houses and hotels were burned and looted. Apparently without reason, since no public buildings were nearby.

The Japanese army was erecting sandbag barriers and barbed wire entanglements on the north side of the International bridge, facing the French barricades.

Hundreds of Chinese refugees were jammed at the north end of the bridge because of the French refusal to permit them to enter the French concession.

Looting broke out in many parts of the Chinese city, apparently both by Chinese and Japanese.

The American Hospital bank was bombed and wrecked.

United States consular authorities, checking up on men and women of whose safety nothing had been known, found that they had stuck to their posts during the worst of the furious Japanese bombing of the Chinese areas.

American Vice Consul John F. Stone today rescued two American sisters, reported Chinese, from the worst part of the Hopei district where they had remained all during the fighting. The sisters are Miss Beatrice Liu and Mrs. Emily Chi. Their maiden name was Exner and they are from Northfield, Minn.

Earlier Stone had risked his life, making his way through dangerous rifle fire, to trip to persuade American Missionaries to leave their posts and take refuge in the foreign concession zone. The sisters refused, finding among them were Miss Laura Beatty and Miss E. M. Carlisle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 31.—Sheriffs of counties of 30,000 or less inhabitants will receive a flat $400 a year as mileage return, William F. Cosgrave, chief examiner of the state accounts board, told county sheriffs today.

After receiving an opinion from the attorney-generals office, Mr. Cosgrave told auditors not to include the six-cents-a-mile allowance previously awarded all sheriffs in counties of less than 30,000.

He said sheriffs of 79 of the state's 92 counties would be affected by the ruling.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

STRICTER SHIP SAFETY RULES APPROVED

Washington, July 31.—(UP)—The senate commerce committee today voted to report favorably the Copeland "safety at sea" bill setting up rigid safety requirements for construction of new vessels and providing for closer inspection of old ships. The committee also voted a favorable report on a bill requiring all steamship lines to compile and "deposit in a safe place" full passenger lists for all passenger sailings. The committee's action was understood to have been hastened by burning of the steamship City of Baltimore in Chesapeake bay Thursday night, which resulted in death of at least two.

ROOSEVELT ON YACHT AWAITS GOV. MURPHY

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(UP)—President Roosevelt cruised idly on the Potomac river today awaiting arrival of Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan for a week-end visit, Mr. Roosevelt's pleasure yacht, the U. S. S. Potomac, was ready to speed back to Washington in the event of a Sino-Japanese crisis. It left the Washington navy yard last night.

Murphy, delayed in Lansing by a special session of the state legislature, was scheduled to join the president at noon. He will be flown to the Potomac by Mr. Roosevelt's naval mail plane.

The governor's visit increased speculation concerning a possible U. S. supreme curt appointee and labor legislation. There were reportsm Capitol hill that the president would seek advice from Murphy on the basis of the governor's experiences in the General Motors sit-down strike and more recent steel controversy.

There was curiosity over the possibility that the two might discuss a new supreme court associate justice to succeed Willis Van DeVanter, retired.

The president said, however, that Murphy's trip was for a purely social week-end and nothing else. He explained they had not seen each other for a long time.

Accompanying the president aboard the Potomac were: Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, Sen. Theodore F. Green, D., R. I., Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of public health, Capt. Paul H. Bastedo, White House naval aide, and Miss Marguerite Lehand, the president's personal secretary.

SURGEONS CURE MAN SHRINKING TO HIS DEATH

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 31.—Hans Nelson, who shrank 16 inches in height in five years today credited a gland operation with saving his life and putting him "on top of the world".

He is gaining strength, he said, eating "anything," taking automobile rides and enjoying life. He is pleased also to know his case has aided others so afflicted.

Two years ago surgeons removed half of his parathyroid glands in an effort to stop the de-calcification of his bones that reduced his stature. He had been shrinking for fifteen years until he was a stooped man of five feet.

Nelson still is five feet tall, but says he is feeling better "every day" and looking forward to the time when he will be even more active.

"As far as my life was concerned," Nelson said of his operation, "I figured I was gone. I made a try though and I'm glad of it. This has been a wonderful summer since I have been sick."

He said he has driven 200 and 300-mile automobile drives this summer. His back is too weak to support his body in strenuous work, but he said driving is perfect because he gets good support.

26 KILLED ON PARIS TRAIN; 40 INJURED

PARIS, July 31.—(UP)—Twenty-six persons were killed and 40 were injured seriously today when the Sanil Etienne express, speeding toward the Loire mountains at more than sixty miles an hour, was derailed at Villeneuve Saint George, 12 miles from Paris.

Twenty-two bodies were removed from a single wooden car which burst into flames after being crushed between two steel cars as if in a vise. Some of the dead were burned alive. At least two bodies still were pinned under the wreckage, and rescuers feared they might find more.

A railroad communique attributed the wreck to a switchman's error, but later examination showed that the train had jumped the tracks after speeding across a switch that had failed to close properly.

Premier Camille Chautemps and Minister of Interior Marx Dormoy hurried to the scene from Paris to begin an investigation. Minister of Public Works Queuille had already arrived.

The hospital at Villeneuve soon was overtaxed, and many of the wounded, badly mangled, were brought to hospitals here. Survivors told how the wooden cars had been like match boxes between the heavy steel cars. Practically all casualties were in wooden cars.

Passengers were mostly vacationists bound for the mountain resorts of France. The unidentified dead were a seven-months old baby two boys about 7 and 13 and five women. The train was derailed approximately 30 minutes after it had left Paris.

STOCK SELLERS BEING SOUGHT

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 31.—(UP)—St. Joseph county authorities today sought L. E. Long and Ralph P. Cook, both of South Bend, on charges of selling unregistered securities and sale of securities without a license.

The men allegedly made 140 sales of stock in South Star Mine, Ltd., a corporation which they told customers would be organized in Nevada.

Police began their search for the pair when they disappeared after being ordered by Prosecutor George Nelson to deposit $5,000 collected here since January in a local bank pending approval of their ventures by the state securities commission.
